From Holborn underground station – on the Piccadilly & Central lines:

Turn left along Kingsway. Number 9 Kingsway is on the opposite side of the road to the station and is an approximately five minute walk.

From Covent Garden underground station – on the Piccadilly line:

Walk across the junction of Bow Street, turning right onto Long Acre and carry on as far as the junction with Great Queen Street. At the end of Great Queen Street turn right onto Kingsway. Number 9 Kingsway should be on the same side of the road. This is about a ten minute walk.

From Waterloo underground and mainline station – on the Bakerloo, Jubilee, Northern and Waterloo and City lines, and with connections to mainline trains:

Follow directions for Waterloo Bridge. You will need to cross the River Thames. This will bring you to the Aldwych. Alternatively catch a bus to Aldwych from Waterloo. Number 9 Kingsway is at the Aldwych end of Kingsway on the left hand side.

From Temple underground station – on Circle and District lines:

Exit the station and cross the road at the zebra crossing. Heading straight ahead from the zebra crossing will bring you to Aldwych. Follow the Aldwych round to your left until you come to Kingsway. Cross the road onto the left hand side of Kingsway and keep walking for a short distance until you reach number 9.

From Charing Cross underground and mainline station – on the Bakerloo and Northern lines:

Exit following signs for 'The Strand'. Once on the Strand either walk away from Trafalgar Square, or catch a bus, down The Strand. This will bring you to Aldwych. Follow the Aldwych round until you reach Kingsway. Turn left and walk down the Kingsway until you reach number 9 on the left hand side.
